PHINS 2020 webinar series: September-October 2020

In place of the annual seminar, this year we are hosting three separate, but linked, online 'webinars'. The webinars focus on the impact of, the context to, and the emergence from, the COVID-19 pandemic.

Each webinar will last one hour, comprising two 20-minute presentations, and 15 minutes of questions and discussion.

Each webinar is a separate event and therefore requires separate registration.

The dates are: Thursday 3rd September, Thursday 17th September, and Thursday 1st October. All begin at 10am and last one hour.

The details of each webinar are listed below.

If you would like to tweet about the webinars, we are using: #PHINS2020
